National Student Leadership Institute

Rarely do adult learners have an opportunity to participate in a national adult learner meeting. There is such an opportunity this fall sponsored by VALUE-our national adult learner organization.

A student attending a past learner leadership institute returned to the state energized and facilitated a number of student forums around the state gathering information for program improvement that resulted in revamping student intake processes state wide.

Attached is information on costs and meeting schedules. The agenda includes Danny Glover as a guest speaker and sessions on student leadership.

The Institute is October 9-11 in Sacramento, CA.

VALUE-Voices of Adult Learners United for Education-is our only national adult learner organization. In addition to the national student leadership institutes, they can assist you in developing adult learner organizations in your state. www.valueusa.org
