Our Colleague Needs Grant Application Reviewers

Dear Colleagues,

Perhaps there is someone in your department or local programs who would like to participate in the following.

The Maine Department of Education Office of Adult Education and Family Literacy is recruiting readers for its Adult Education and Family Literacy (AEFLA) grant applications. The grant proposals will be read and scored on line. Proposals will be available for review beginning sometime around April 4, 2013. Readers should have working knowledge of adult education principles and experience with adult education program development and management. There is a stipend of fifty dollars for each grant read. It is anticipated that readers will read from five to ten proposals each.

Grants will be read and notes taken. Then, in partnership with another reader, a consensus score will be awarded. Grant reading must be completed by April 25, 2013.

There will be a grant reader's web conference to review the Request for Proposals and the scoring procedure April 3, 2013. at 3:00PM Eastern Daylight Savings Time. A web link and toll free number will be provided. The session will be recorded. Participation or review is required.

The AEFLA RFP is available to review by downloading from the Maine Adult Education website <http://www.maine.gov/education/aded/dev/aeffa/aeffa.htm>

Individuals interested in applying to be a Maine AELFA Grant Reader must complete a brief reader's application. Click on this link for the application
