3000 Common Core Lesson Plans

The National Education Association today will post online 3,000 lessons, representing the work of more than 100 "master teachers" who translated the Common Core math and language arts standards into classroom activities for every grade. The instructors share classroom videos, samples of student work and candid evaluations of resources they've tested. The project, a joint venture with ed-tech startup BetterLessons, is funded by the NEA and the Gates Foundation. Organizers hope to have 16,000 model lessons posted by the fall of 2015. These lessons are designed for K-12 but may be useful in developing your adult education lesson plans, even if you are not using the Common Core.
